

Example of the Conclusion of a Matching dialogue

We have summarized the things we have done today and since this is our last meeting concerning your path of moving abroad I would like to know from you how far we have got until now.

Well, first of all I would like to say that we have discussed many things and some which I even didn't know might exist☺, at least in my case. I'm glad though that we had many meetings and tried to separate the things which we unified today. I think that we got quite far. I know now how to proceed from here on and feel ready to start the process of applying and moving abroad.

Great, what has turned out to be clearer?

Well, many things actually. I found out what I really wanted to do even though it wasn't quite clear in the beginning and not very easy to establish. I also learned how to assess myself, what important guidelines I need to know for abroad, where I can go with my certificates and how I can integrate into a country.

I'm glad; would you say that there is anything missing or still open to be discussed later?

Actually, maybe the last things we have discussed today about the application process but you told me that I should contact you once I have prepared my application documents and we can go through them together.

Exactly. I would definitely help you out with that one in a follow-up "special" meeting☺. And besides that, is there anything else I can help you with?

Actually, maybe if I have some additional questions or concerns, I would like to know if I can get back to you on this matter as well?

Of course you can. You can always contact me (by phone or email) and we can even have additional appointments, probably more virtual ones, since you might also want to contact me once you are abroad.

Yes, that would be great and it's reassuring to have someone you can rely on. Of course I won't bother you with too many or too silly things☺.

Don't worry about that; there are not too many or too silly questions when it comes to living in a different country. It's an experience that is exciting for everyone. Furthermore I would be very happy if you would like to talk again in case there is any demand for communication.

That's good to know, thank you so much.

Then we will see each other in a couple of days or weeks to go through your application. We can do that either in a personal meeting or we can meet online, whatever you prefer.

Yes, I would probably prefer an online meeting to be able to have a direct file-sharing for my application documents to adapt the changes right away.

Alright, we will do that. And of course, I would be glad to help and support you once you have moved abroad. It will be of great interest to see what has changed until then☺. Even upon a possible return, doesn't matter for what reasons, you can always come and see me.

That's indeed very reassuring. Thank you so much for everything you have done so far and of course, thank you for offering me further support in the future.

You're welcome. Until then, good luck and we will see each other soon, maybe next week. Let me know once you have prepared your application documents.

I will. Thank you and have a nice week until then. Goodbye.

Thank you. You too. See you next time.
